REAL BRITAIN IS AROUSED IRISH TRAGEDY

STRATTON HOME IS BUSY PLACE; SECOND UNDER WAY

Farm Proving Great Aid to
Institution; 70 People
There Now

Work on the new addition of the Myron-Stratton home is going ahead rapidly, and the 13 new five-room cottages and a service building are in the process of construction. Superintendent H. W. Cowan says that the home will be able to accommodate 130 people when the cottages are ready for occupancy.

The new cottages are situated on the plateau south of the three main buildings. They have been set aside for the old people. There are 70 people living at the home, including the children.

The service building, which will be one of the features of the home, will supply the heat and electric light for the little colony and also will provide an assembly room for the old folk. The dining room also will be in the service building, and will be conducted on the cafeteria plan. Water will be supplied by the Stratton water system near the Cheyenne canon, while the drinking water will come from the filter near the entrance to the South Cheyenne canon. This filter is 100 feet across and supplies the entire home with drinking water. Pipe lines are being laid to the new cottages.

Each cottage consists of four bedrooms, a sitting room with a fireplace and bathroom. The walls are of hollow brick, with a concrete covering, while the roofs are tiled. They will be furnished simply and substantially, for that is what the trustees of the home desire, said Mr. Cowan. The furniture will be turned oak on square lines. The foundations have already been laid for the majority of the cottages, and the walls are more than half way completed. With the 13 new houses there will be a total of 26 cottages and the service building, making in all 26 homes for the old people.

Hope to Get Chapel.
"We hope to have a chapel in the future sometime," said Mr. Cowan, "but that is pretty far ahead, and we are satisfied with what we have now." The sanitary and plumbing system for the new cottages as well as the old building will be completed by the end of the month. The Nationalist building for the use of the aged inhabitants. While some of the old cottages contain their own hot water heating system, the new buildings all will be heated by the plant in the service cottage. Mr. Cowan is planting trees on the driveway, and as soon as the new houses are finished will complete the line of trees across the plateau.

Next year will see more improvements on the plateau. The large space enclosed by the semicircle of cottages will contain lawns and trees and benches, and Mr. Cowan hopes to have it gain the appearance of a small park as soon as possible.

Farm is Flourishing.
The farm, run in connection with the home, but under the direction of a different superintendent, is in a flourishing condition. The home is supplied with all the dairy produce it needs, while the stock, consisting of 15 head of Holstein cattle and about 15 horses, is fed on the alfalfa and grain grown on the fields. The remainder of the produce is sold to support, as far as possible, the running expenses of the home. While the organization of the two places is not yet in perfect running order, it is hoped in the future to have the men at the home who are able to do some kind of manual labor work on the farm as much as they can. That is the aim of the institution at present, according to Mr. Cowan.

The 10 original cottages are occupied by old people. When the new ones are completed the plateau at the south of the main buildings will be covered with a picturesque group of houses. At present there is no infirmary, but one cottage is in use for that purpose.

"We do not intend to have need for one," said the superintendent.

Playgrounds for Children.
The main buildings of the home now in use for the children will continue to be reserved for them. Swings and slides have been placed there for play. Later on, the boys will be given the opportunity to work on the farm, when they are old enough. And here Mr. Cowan said that the farm was expected to play a big part in the development of the home.

U. S. WARNS VILLA TO STOP BICKERING

Carothers Returns After Conference With Leader of the North

EL PASO, Tex., July 27.—George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department, arrived here late tonight from Chihuahua City, where he has been in conference with General Villa. It was reported that his mission was to impress on the northern leader that the United States would look with disfavor on another internal disagreement among the Constitutionalists. Carothers refused to discuss that phase of the subject, but stated that he thought there is now no danger of a repetition of the recent Carranzas-Quirrell quarrel.

Arrivals from the state capital of Chihuahua said tonight that General Luis Terrazas, Jr., who has been held in the Chihuahua penitentiary for several months by Villa, has been released on parole and negotiations are under way between his family and the revolutionists to effect his full release.

Gen. Calixto Contreras and a party of Villa's staff officers left Juarez tonight for the south on a special train. Several thousand new uniforms and large quantities of ammunition were aboard the train. The departure of these men gave added strength to the report brought here by travelers from Chihuahua City that Villa's army was on the eve of marching toward Mexico City.

County's Receipts
First Half Year
Are $678,841.42

The receipts of El Paso county for the six months ending June 30 last were $678,841.42 and the disbursements $680,666.23, according to the semiannual statement issued by County Treasurer Samuel J. Bryan. The balance on hand at the beginning of the period was $55,596.61, giving a balance to date of $63,872.70.

One of the more interesting items in the statement is that on road and bridge work. During the six months $33,044.38 was spent in this improvement work, $34,381.62 being collected. In support of the poor the county spent $113,080.44, collecting $13,867.62. Receipts for the general school fund were $70,370.48 and disbursements $58,595.84. To the Colorado Springs treasurer was paid $164,018.

SCOUT CAR STARTS BACK THIS MORNING

Itinerary for Sociability Is Ready; Indians Plan
Feature

By H. S. ROGERS
Special to The Gazette.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 27.—The Gazette-Telegraph pathfinding car will start on its return journey tomorrow, as soon as the same route is found impossible to return by way of Grand Junction owing to several important matters that remained to be settled over the Pikes Peak Ocean-to-Ocean highway. We spent yesterday at Ogden, 20 miles northeast of here, and returned to Salt Lake City late tonight. The papers here are giving a great deal of publicity to the sociability run and have boosted the scouts and the car. The people are interested in the highway and promise a great reception to the motorists on the run. The itinerary for the sociability run has been completed. The first night of the trip will be spent at Moen, where an enthusiastic reception will await the travelers. Some of the best stretches of the highway are through this part of the state.

The next night will be spent at Vernal, Utah. The following day the party will arrive at Fort Duchesne, where the people of Lincoln Basin will gather for an Indian and cowboy exhibition. The Indians and cowboys will form an escort for the automobiles and will give a "wild west" performance for the benefit of the visitors. A picnic dinner will be served there.

The party will divide into three sections at Utah Basin and will spend the night at Roosevelt, Mynton and Theodore. The rendezvous will be at Theodore the next morning, and the party will unite and go over the Cotton pass together. The following night will be spent at Panguitch, where the Commercial club will do the honors. The party will be the guests of the club the next morning on a boat ride on Utah Lake. The end of the trip will be reached that afternoon, when the motorists reach Salt Lake City.

Everywhere along the route we have found people only too willing to help us in the arrangements for the trip, and one of the most pleasant parts of the scout trip has been the enthusiasm and interest shown by the good-highway hostlers along the route. The pioneer car has stirred up the interest of the people in the highway and in the coming sociability run, and they are prepared to do all in their power to make the trip a memorable one. They have pledged themselves to make their part of the road one of the best in the country, as it has undoubtedly proved itself to be.

Can't Part With Horses; Kills Them,
Commits Suicide

PERRY, Okla., July 27.—Grief-stricken because of the threatened loss of his team of horses by foreclosure of a mortgage, Gottlieb Wigger, a farmer, today shot and killed the animals, buried them and then ended his own life over their grave. A letter he left read in part:

"Often when I was overcome with grief with no one to console me, these old friends would act as if they knew all my distresses. It would break my heart to see them come into other people's hands."

EARTH SHOCKS ARE FELT AT HALIFAX, N. S.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 27.—Two earth shocks of 12 and six seconds duration from an easterly direction were felt on the southwest shore of Nova Scotia, from Nahone bay to Shelburne, a distance of 100 miles, at noon today.

2 LOSE LIVES IN TELLURIDE FLOOD

MANY HOMELESS AND CITY INUNDATED

Cloudburst Sends 10-Foot
Wall of Water Through
Main Streets

TELLURIDE, Colo., July 27.—Two persons were drowned and 400 families were driven from their homes and are tonight camped in public buildings and 15 business blocks, comprising 100 buildings, were partially wrecked late today when a wall of water, estimated to have been 10 feet in height, originating in a cloudburst at the top of the canon, descended through Cornet canon, broke through the dam and flooded the town. The dead are: MRS. E. F. BLAKELBY, MRS. JOHN JOHNSON. The damage is estimated at $150,000.

Dam is Washed Out.
The heavy downpour visible from Telluride descended at the top of the range 2 1/2 miles north, shortly after noon. The dam, built 15 years ago for such emergencies, was unable to check the wall of mud and water, which raced down the canon and tore through the dam and submerged the lowlands.

At the height of the flood, Main street was under 10 feet of water. The tide quickly subsided. The two women, who were caught in the flood lived at the mouth of the canon and were unable to gain higher ground.

The central and eastern part of the town was most seriously affected and residents in this section were forced to flee. Temporary arrangements for their comfort were made tonight at the court house and other public buildings, while many found shelter in homes of the west side.

The danger is believed to have passed.

WARBURG'S NAME MAY BE WITHDRAWN TODAY

Must Agree to Appear Before the Senate at Once, or President Wilson Will Drop Him

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Whether President Wilson will withdraw the nomination of Paul M. Warburg of New York as a member of the federal reserve board, probably will be announced tomorrow. It was said tonight that the president had written to Mr. Warburg, urging that he reconsider his refusal to appear before the committee and that unless the banker acceded the nomination would be withdrawn immediately.

Senator Owen, chairman of the banking committee, who has returned from Europe, telegraphed Mr. Warburg today asking that he come before the committee.

Tonight Mr. Warburg replied, refusing the chairman to let Senator Owen, who recently conferred with the banker and was understood to have persuaded him to put aside his objections to coming to Washington. Senators Owen and Gorman conferred later, but neither would say what the result had been.

At the White house it was said a reply to the president's letter was expected tomorrow. During the day, Senator Owen saw the president and afterward said:

"I am inclined to believe Mr. Warburg will not come before the committee. I think he feels his dignity would suffer in view of circumstances. Of course, his nomination will be withdrawn if he does not respond to the committee's invitation."

NEW ROUTE SHORTENS HIKING TEN MILES

Eastern Colorado Link of Pikes Peak Road in Fine Shape

A saving of approximately 10 miles is effected by a change in the routing of cross-country automobile tourists, between Calhan and Limon. From this time on, the travel will be routed by the new and shorter road, which is the one upon which permanent development is to be centered, and which follows more closely the railroad, including the towns of Matteson, Simla and Ramah, and eliminating the wide circle to the south formerly made by the old route.

This change has just been put into effect by the Colorado division of the Pikes Peak-Ocean-to-Ocean Highway association, and hikers have been put along the new road. A few days ago, the Lincoln garage men and Frank Tompkins, director of the association for Lincoln county, made a trip over the road, changing the post markers from the old route and putting them on the more direct road between Limon and Matteson. The work was completed yesterday, when the El Paso county commissioners and A. W. Henderson, secretary of the Lincoln Highway association of Colorado, made an inspection trip over the highway and made the necessary changes in the marking on the El Paso highway. Within a short time, it is planned to have the new official pole and sign markers placed on the entire route between Colorado Springs and the Kansas state line, and this with the marking done by the Gazette-Telegraph pathfinding party west will complete the work across the state of Colorado.

Roads Are Fine.
It is doubtful if there is a better piece of road in the state of Colorado, for on any portion of the 1,300 miles of the Pikes Peak-Ocean-to-Ocean highway than that between Colorado Springs and Calhan. These 35 miles of road are in splendid condition, due not only to the efficient way in which the road was built, crowned, drained and surfaced, but to the constant work by the four workers in charge of this section of highway. In keeping with attention to the maintenance of the roads after they have been built, the county commissioners have divided this road into four sections, in charge of each of which is a man who devotes his entire time to dragging, grading, surfacing and keeping up the maintenance.

FOUR KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Chicagoans Meet Sudden Death Near Lake Forest, a Suburb

CHICAGO, July 27.—One woman and three men were killed instantly and two men and two women injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a fast passenger train near Lake Forest tonight. The dead:

MR. AND MRS. JAMES W. BENHAM, EDWARD WUNDERLEES, W. P. BARRING. The injured:

George H. Miller, an attorney, Mrs. Catherine Sager, Miss Alice Barber.

Unidentified man, the chauffeur. All lived in this city or in the North Shore residence suburbs. The accident occurred while they were on their way to an amusement park.

CATHOLIC CHURCHES IN MEXICAN STATE ARE TO BE CLOSED

Have Exerted Pernicious Influence During Revolutions, Says the Decree

TAMPAICO, July 26.—(Via Associated Press, July 27.) A decree limiting the scope of the Roman Catholic church in the state of Nuevo Leon, on the grounds of "public health, morality and justice," was issued today by Antonio L. Villarreal, governor and military commander. He said:

"During the life of the nation the church has been a pernicious factor in disruption and discord and has entirely forgotten its spiritual mission."

The most drastic feature of the decree is the prohibition of confession. Villarreal gives as his reason for this the charge that the confessional and the sacristy in Mexico have become a menace to morality.

Orders to Church.
The decree issued in Monterrey, makes the following orders for government of Catholic schools and churches:

"1. All foreign Catholic priests and Jesuits of whatever nationality will be expelled from the state of Nuevo Leon."

"2. Of the remaining Catholic priests, those who cannot prove their complete abstinence from politics will be expelled."

"3. Churches will remain open daily from 8 in the morning until 1 in the afternoon. Only priests having permission to do so will be permitted to officiate."

"4. Confession is prohibited."

"5. The public is prohibited from entering the sacristy."

"6. Church bells shall ring only to celebrate fiestas in honor of the country, or for triumphs of Constitutionalists arms."

Would Close Schools.
All Catholic colleges shall be closed which do not obey the programs and texts ordered by officials, which do not have at their head some professor who is a graduate of a normal school of the country, who will be responsible to the government for any infraction of the rules."

"Any infraction of these laws will be punishable by a fine of $100 to $500, and arrest and imprisonment from two to four months, or both fine and imprisonment."

Explaining the grounds for this action, Villarreal's decree reads:

"In the interest of public health, morality and justice, the state of Nuevo Leon will limit the scope of the Catholic church, which during its life has entirely forgotten its spiritual mission, its sole right to be recognized by modern society."

Political Activities.
The church has consecrated itself principally to conquest in politics. To secure its object, it always has been allied with the reactionary government and the despots and even with foreign invaders. It has showed itself an implacable enemy to the liberal movement and progress from the first revolution of Ayala until the present, and has culminated its ridiculous excommunications over the most grand and glorious benefactors of the country, Hidalgo, Juarez and Lerdo de Tejada."

The pretorial and clerical rulings of Porfirio Diaz and Huerta, against which the Mexican people have been struggling heroically for many years.

EUROPE TRYING TO AVERT WAR IN NEAR EAST

First Battle Between Austrians and Servians Occurs on the Danube

DIPLOMACY NOW AT WORK

Efforts Being Made to Localize Fighting, if Peace Plans Miscarry

LONDON, July 27.—An engagement between Austrians and Servians is reported to have occurred on the Danube, but no details are available. As far as the censorship permits to be known, Austria has not yet opened her military operations.

Meanwhile diplomacy is proceeding with energy along two separate lines to avert the war if possible and if that is impossible, to localize the conflict. First, Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, has proposed to the powers a plan for joint mediation which, it is said, France and Italy already have accepted. Germany has not yet replied and her acceptance is regarded as doubtful.

Sir Edward Grey explained in the house of commons his idea, which was that the four powers, Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy, cooperate in an endeavor to arrange the dispute between Austria and Servia on the basis of Servia's reply to the Austrian ultimatum. This reply he regarded as the foundation on which friendly and impartial powers should be able to arrange an acceptable settlement.

Would Localize Issue.
Should the British foreign secretary's efforts fail to avert war, it is expected he will endeavor by some means to prevent complications by confining the hostilities to Austria and Servia.

The second line of diplomatic endeavor, from which even more is hoped, consists in taking place at St. Petersburg between the Russian minister of foreign affairs, Sergius Sazonov, and the Austrian ambassador. It is understood that M. Sazonov is making a tremendous effort to bring about a direct understanding and that a solution on these lines would be more agreeable to Germany than Great Britain's conference proposal.

Czar Cancels Vacation.
The Russian emperor has postponed his intended visit to Finland in order to remain in the capital during the crisis. It is said Russia is urging Servia to give Austria the fullest possible satisfaction.

An extremely warlike spirit prevails in Vienna, where the evening papers declare that the Servians are only making evasions and that therefore it is impossible for the Austrian government to retreat. Further, they hint that even should Servia accept the Austrian ultimatum unconditionally

'HAPPY HARRY', PHILANTHROPIST DURING LIFETIME, WILLED FUND FOR POOR GIRLS

Huckster Bequeathed Money for Purpose That Gave Him Only Joy During His Life

The church work and philanthropic work to which "Happy Harry" Ottlinger, who for years had been familiar in Colorado Springs as a preacher at the county and city jails, devoted much of his energy and resources during half his life found mention even in the will which Ottlinger made a few months before his death. The will, with an inventory of Ottlinger's possessions, county court. "Happy Harry's" estate consisted only of some real estate worth about $1,000, and personal property worth about $1,000, but out of this he bequeathed $100 to the official board of the First Methodist church of this city, to be used in philanthropic work. The clause in which he made the bequest, with its story of the devotion he had for what he had made his life's work, reads:

"I hereby give and bequeath unto the official board of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Colorado Springs the sum of $100 to be used by said board in its discretion in aiding any poor and unfortunate young girls and more particularly members of the said First M. E. church, so long as said $100 shall last. My reason for making the above bequest is that I have had so many sad experiences in this life and my only consolation has been in the rich experiences in my labors of love for the church and in the El Paso county jail work I have been engaged in for many years."

Ottlinger's will was short. He left the larger part of his property to his daughter, Mary Ellen Ottlinger of Colorado Springs. The bequest to the board of the First Methodist church was the only other direction as to what he wished done with any of his belongings. In addition to those two provisions, he asked only that his body be buried in his lot in Evergreen cemetery, and that his executor erect over his grave a suitable monument to his memory. The cost of this monument to be at the executor's discretion. The will was made December 9, 1913, and in it Ottlinger appointed Dr. A. A. Blackman as his executor. Blackman, however, in presenting the will for probate, stated to the court that Dr. A. A. Blackman had not been set for August 15, and an administrator with the will annexed will be appointed by Judge W. F. Kinney then.

"Happy Harry" was 56 years old. He made a living by running a vegetable wagon on the morning of June 3, while loading his wagon at the commission row, he fell unconscious. He was rushed to Beth-El hospital, but died there at noon. Ottlinger was given the name "Happy Harry" because of his perpetually jovial nature, and was known all over the city by it. For years he conducted preaching services at the jails, and until an illness a short time before his death, he had missed only one Sunday service in the county jail in 25 years. Some years ago he conducted services at the Union Printers' home, and at the county poor farm, and in more recent years he conducted services at the city jail, in addition to his work at the county jail. Besides devoting his energy to this work, he devoted much of what resources he had to religious and philanthropic work. For years he maintained a missionary in India, and sent three girls through preparatory school and gave them each a year in college. To do all this, he often had to deny himself many necessities, but he always declared to his friends that he was happiest when his money was helping those he thought worthy.

GREAT BRITAIN IS AROUSED BY IRISH TRAGEDY

Harrell sharply for his "astonishing lack of discretion." Andrew Monar Law, leader of the opposition, declared that the government's policy was responsible for the tragedy.

The prime minister defended the government's impartiality in attempting to prevent the importation of arms. Since the proclamation had been issued, he said, the number of arms imported into Ireland had been infinitesimal. Harrell's action in summoning the military after arms had been landed was an entirely new departure. He concluded:

"The difficulties in Ireland are due to the attempts, in this house to govern a people they cannot understand, by a parliament imperfectly equipped for the task."

He warned the opposition, who were hoping to come into power, that the government of Ireland would prove an impossible task until the home rule bill became a law.

Arthur J. Balfour and others criticized the government for making scapegoats of police officials.

Rioting Breaks Out Again

DUBLIN, July 27.—Rioting broke out again tonight, but subsided without serious results. The rumor was abroad that the Scottish Borderers would entrain at the Amiens street station. A great crowd, for the most part from the slums, surrounded the station. The rioters amused themselves by stoning street cars.

Six hundred volunteers, paraded through the streets, a crowd of 4,000 following them, marching in step and singing.

Feeling runs high throughout Nationalist Ireland. Town councils are adopting resolutions denouncing the massacre. The soldiers of the Limerick and Kilkenny garrisons are confined to barracks, and concerts by military bands in several towns have been canceled.

The lord mayor of Dublin has called a meeting of the magistrates to consider the action of the castle authorities in calling out the police and soldiers without consulting the city officials. The police threaten a strike unless those members of the department who were dismissed for disobedience of orders are reinstated.

It is announced here that Sir John Ross, the police commissioner, resigned as a protest against the suspension of Deputy Commissioner Harrell. The Nationalists are delighted as Commissioner Ross was unpopular.

Duke of Connaught and Family Have a Narrow Escape From Drowning

OTTAWA, Ont., July 27.—The Duke of Connaught, retiring governor general of the Dominion of Canada, the Duchess and Princess Patricia, their daughter, escaped drowning last Saturday. It became known here today.

Two motorboats in which they were sailing on the Lake of the Woods at Kenora, struck floating logs with such speed that holes were driven through their sheathing and they began filling. Motorboats seeking the accident sped to the rescue, taking the duke, his family and suite off the boats just before they sank. Four hundred motorboats were assembled on the lake in a regatta constituting part of the duke's farewell tour of the Dominion. Two racing boats, belonging to Robert Rogers, Canadian minister of public works, were leading the parade when the duke's family on board when the accident occurred.

TEXAS PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS STILL IN DOUBT

DALLAS, Tex., July 27.—Doubt concerning two of the closely contested races for congressional nominations in Texas was cleared tonight when complete unofficial returns showed that Representative Horace W. Vaughan in the First district had been defeated in the Democratic primary by Eugene Black of Clarksville. Black's majority being 401.

Representative Oscar Callaway in the Twelfth district has been renominated by a plurality of 4,000 over James A. Wayne. In the other contests it seems probable that J. H. Davis of Sulphur Springs, has been nominated for congressman-at-large, defeating Representative Daniel Garrett.

Jeff McLemore of Houston also apparently has been chosen as another congressman-at-large.

Returns at this time reasonably assure the nomination of William F. Hobby for lieutenant governor.

have had the sympathy and assistance of the Mexican church, the church has had its benefactions for the orphans and corporations of Tlaxcala and has successfully worked to incite the public against the constitutional cause.

Moral Character Weakened

Some of the premonitions of the church were criticized. Villareal alleges that in Mexico they have tended toward weakening of moral character. He declared it the course of wisdom to close the clerical schools for the present on the ground that it is a supreme national necessity to stamp out at the root the arrogant abuses of the Catholic church and remove the grave danger, which the institution represents, more political than religious for the tranquility and future progress of the country.

Catholic churches recently have been closed in Saltillo, San Luis Potosi and Nuevo Laredo.

BRITISH ASK CARRANZA FOR CONCESSIONS

TAMPICO, July 26.—(Via Laredo, Texas, July 27.)—Sir Christopher Grainger, British admiral, who yesterday conferred with General Carranza here, requested that Carranza, who Carranza recognized, in some particular concessions Huerta made the oil production tax be adjusted at once and that foreigners be guaranteed protection. Carranza, it was said, returned unfavorable answers.

It was made plain, however, that Sir Christopher represented no interest but Great Britain's. It was said that at a meeting of consuls the question of making various recommendations was emphatically vetoed by the Americans on the ground that the visit was one merely of courtesy.

TEN LARGE FOREST FIRES ARE RAGING IN THE NORTHWEST

BUTTE, Mont., July 27.—Ten of the largest forest fires in western Montana and northern Idaho this season are raging and the efforts of scores of men have made little progress against the flames, according to reports received today at forestry headquarters at Missoula.

The forestry officials received word that there is a large fire still uncontrolled at Cold Creek; two fires are burning on O'Brien creek; two at Nine Mile; two on the Flathead reserve; one in the Lewis and Clark forest and two in the Selway forest in Idaho. Forty men are fighting the flames on the Flathead forest where conditions are serious. Near Missoula, in the Lewis and Clark forest, 50 men are working against the flames night and day.

A forest fire started by campers near Heuser lake reservoir, which furnished a dam with water, is burning. The timber on the west of the lake basin seems doomed. The fire, which started yesterday, soon destroyed telephone lines, cutting off communication with headquarters. Forest guards were unable to give the alarm from Lookout mountain.

TWO KILLED, TWO HURT IN RACING WITH STREET CAR

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 27.—Mrs. A. M. Blum, 32, and Miss Amber Blum, 17, are dead and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Blum are seriously injured as a result of a collision between the automobile in which they were riding and an interurban car at crossing. It is said that the automobile crossed the car to the crossing.

STRIKE LEADER IS ADMITTED TO BAIL

TRINIDAD, July 27.—Judge A. W. McHendrie in the district court late this afternoon granted a motion admitting to bail in the sum of $15,000, James Blumharts, better known as "Big Jim," the Greek, a strike leader, who has been in jail here since November 25, charged with murder growing out of the killing of Mine Guard Angus Alexander near Hastings, on October 28. It was the third application for bail.

Blumharts, it is alleged, was the leader of a band of Greek strikers that gibbeted a small party of guards and is said to have shot Alexander while wearing a band of truce on his arm. He was wounded in the leg in the engagement with the mine guards and was apprehended at a hospital in Denver. He was a military prisoner for two months and indicted then by the district attorney.

Whooping Cough

"About a year ago my three boys had whooping cough and I found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the only one that would relieve their coughing and whooping spells. ## Whitman to Run for Nomination on G. O. P. Ticket

NEW YORK, July 27.—District Attorney Charles S. Whitman will file his petition for the gubernatorial nomination at the Republican primary, according to an announcement issued by him tonight. In the statement he asks Harvey D. Hinshaw, who has announced himself as in the field for the nomination, to pledge himself to support the candidate chosen as he, Whitman, says he will do.

Mr. Whitman says he doubtless could have had the support of Col. Theodore Roosevelt in his efforts to secure the Republican nomination if he had been willing to submit to Colonel Roosevelt's criticism.

"I did not submit to it and I did not get it," he adds.

ENGINEMEN AGREE TO CONTINUE NEGOTIATIONS

CHICAGO, July 27.—Mediation in the controversy between the 34 western railroad and their engineers had been agreed to continue the negotiations until the 30th. A week ago, July 25 had been set by the men as the final date for conference.

The board of mediation met with the general managers' committee of the railroads and was ready to confer with the men when the board members received notice asking a day's postponement to let the engineers consider recent proposals.

The mediation board has given up hopes for a direct settlement of the controversy and now is directing every effort to have the engineers agree to arbitration.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 27.—Fred D. Warren, for 12 years past editor of the Appeal to Reason, a Socialist newspaper here, resigned today because of ill health. Louis Koehring, an present managing editor, will succeed Mr. Warren, and Walter H. Wayland, son of the late J. A. Wayland, founder of the paper, will hereafter be sole owner and publisher.

Hungarians in U. S. Would Return to Fight for Country

NEW YORK, July 27.—The one topic of conversation in the Hungarian colonies in the upper and lower east side is the possibility of war. A strong sentiment to return to Hungary has sprung up and men and women declare they would leave at once if news of a foreign foe threatening Hungary is received.

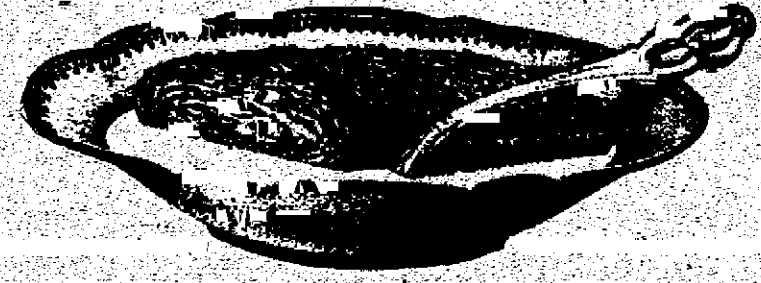

A committee already has been organized to form a volunteer regiment.

It was estimated today that there are close to 200,000 Hungarian reserves in this country, and about 15,000 of them are in New York city.

Servians, too, are anxiously awaiting news of the impending war cloud apparently are as ready to return to their native country as the Hungarians. Of the 100,000 Servians in the United States it was estimated that 1,000 in this city.

At a gathering of 10,000 Germans yesterday to celebrate the thirty-second anniversary of the allied societies, Brooklyn, a cable dispatch was ordered sent to the emperor, congratulating him on the stand Germany had taken in the present crisis.

The dispatch expressed the hope of a happy solution of the questions involved would be found without resorting to war.

ANNEXATIONISTS IN COLO. CITY BACKING RECALL PETITION?

100 Names Secured Yesterday; Administration Forces Defy Enemies

Believing the recall of the city officials will hasten the annexation of Colorado City to Colorado Springs, the annexation forces of Colorado City are lining up with the faction carrying on the recall proceedings, according to those directing the latter movement. The annexationists have remained quiet since securing the appointment of an annexation committee several months ago and, as a body, have taken no part in the recall movement. While it is hardly likely they will make an open fight for recall, it is generally understood they are in sympathy with the movement.

The recall movement is strictly an economical one, its backers point out. In support of their argument they refer to the charges brought against the officials—all of them of little importance—and hint that they could have preferred charges that would have startled the entire region. They wanted to bring the matter to a crisis without an ugly fight or a scandal, they assert, and for this reason are carrying on the movement as quietly and with as little publicity as possible.

The annexationists believe the affairs of the city must be placed on a more economical basis before annexation can be had, it is said, and for this reason are lining up with the recall crowd. They accept the statements of the latter that the movement is purely one of economy.

100 Names Already. The recall faction if absolutely confident that the required number of signatures to insure a recall election can be obtained within 10 days at the most. The petitions, about eight in number, were placed in circulation last Saturday morning. Last night it was reported that more than 100 of the 429 required had been secured. It was also pointed out that no workers are out. The most of the petitions are in the hands of merchants who offer them only to customers in their stores; it is stated.

If the recall crowd is confident that the movement will be an unqualified success, there are others in the city who hold just the opposite opinion. "Nothing to it," they declare disdainfully. "Just a bunch of knackers trying to start trouble. This town was never better off than it is now. Property is rapidly becoming more valuable and business conditions are bettering."

If there is a deep interest in the movement, however, it is not manifested. The people apparently are not stirred up over it and one would never know anything about it if he did not question. Directors of the movement, one of whom is Frank L. Wolff, already are talking of the special recall election and the city election to select successors to the present officials. They are anxious that the special election be held during September, that the issues of the state campaign will not affect the purely local ones in Colorado City. The election to fill the offices they take it for granted that the recall election will prove successful—they hope to hold simultaneously with the general election in November.

Mrs. May Ammerman, city clerk, and other officials are doing everything in their power to make the attempt to recall them as difficult as possible, according to the leaders. Mrs. Ammerman furnished recall petitions with space on each for only 10 names; it is said, the leaders pointing out that the notary fees will amount to an amazing figure.

Today's Program for Baptists' Assembly

BURGULARS STEAL VALUABLES FROM HOME OF J. H. WATERS

Articles valued at several hundred dollars were stolen from the house of Jesse H. Waters, general manager of the Short Line railroad, at 1328 North Nevada avenue, Sunday night, by burglars who gained entrance to the house by breaking a front window. The burglary was carried out before 8:30 o'clock in the evening, while the family was away from the house. The police are working on the case, but so far have obtained no clew which would lead to arrests.

AN INVITATION TO THE PIE COUNTER

THIS announcement, received from the press agent of the Republican organization in Denver, is amusing even though it lacks novelty and information:

The following resolutions inviting the Progressives, who so desire to return to the Republican fold and promising them generous recognition upon the Republican ticket have been adopted by the State Executive Committee of the Republican Party:

WHEREAS, The Republican party of this state past and present, has stood and now stands for law and order; and

WHEREAS, The unsatisfactory conditions in this state and will continue to be a standing menace to business and good government, unless the Republican party succeeds at the polls at the coming election; THERE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Republican party invites and will welcome in the coming campaign the cooperation of such Progressive party voters, and all other citizens, as believe the laws should be rigidly and impartially enforced;

THAT THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Republican party extends the hand of good fellowship to those Progressive Republicans who have alienated themselves from the party, as also to others who feel that it is their patriotic duty, for this country at least, to cooperate for the redemption of the state;

AND BELIEVING as a matter of fairness and equity, that all persons above referred to should have generous recognition upon the Republican ticket.

We trust that the reader has not overlooked that ingenious phrase, "inviting the Progressives, who so desire, to return to the Republican fold and promising them generous recognition upon the Republican ticket." Thus far, as the fruits of nearly two years of vigorous effort to lure the erring brethren back into the fold, the Republican organization has captured two of them. Both were one-time faithful adherents of the G. O. P., both backslid in the campaign of 1912, and both began to itch to get back just as soon as they found that the Progressive party was not kicking awake nights planning to send them to the Senate of the Governor's office.

These returned prodigals are Jawn Stephen and Ike Stevens. True, they hopped blithely back into the fold before the official promulgation of promising them generous recognition upon the Republican ticket, but being the first in line they quite naturally have the first claim to any good thing in sight. And we sincerely hope they get it.

After so deserving of a sort berth as a man who like Ike Stevens, has worn and scarified his epidermis by twenty-five years of tumbling about in the political arena, first in one ring, then in another, as the exigencies of the moment demanded. He has been a momentarily faithful Republican and a momentarily faithful Progressive, and only a want of familiarity with his earlier political history prevents our saying whether he was ever a faithful Democrat or Populist.

Anyway, a man who has played so many parts in his career must have been on the right side of public questions at one time or another. Therefore, we think Ike is entitled to his reward, and earnestly hope that he will get it in the shape of the Republican nomination for something or other next fall. Of course it won't get him anywhere, for the emoluments and honors thereunto appertaining will end promptly on election day. Still, we hope the friends of other days whom he has just rejoined will be as good to him as possible, and we feel the same way about his co-laborer in the field, Jawn B. Stephen.

It may not be out of place to remark the difference in the nature of the invitations extended by the Republican and Progressive organizations. The Republicans ask the support of the people who left that party two years ago, and offer to reward them with "generous recognition upon the Republican ticket." The Progressives ask the support of the same class of voters, but as an inducement they offer only clean, honest, efficient government, based on the fundamentals of law and order and justice; such government as alone can redeem Colorado from its present condition of political chaos and industrial unrest. It is not hard to guess which consideration will take precedence in the public mind.

A GROWING MENACE

A FEW days ago a physician in Glenwood Springs, while crazed with drugs, killed his daughters, ten and twelve years old, and then put a bullet through his own brain. People who heard the shot which killed the younger child rushed to the scene just in time to see the other one on her knees begging for her life. In another instant a bullet went through her heart.

Careful newspaper readers must have been impressed by the increasing number of tragedies of this kind. The use of habit-forming drugs, especially morphine and cocaine, has grown at an amazing rate in recent years. A report published some time ago by one of the Federal bureaus declares that the annual imports of cocaine amount to fully ten times the quantity used for legitimate medical purposes. Many reputable physicians would take exception to this statement on the ground that cocaine has no legitimate use in medical practice, for there are other drugs which can be used as effectively without the danger of forming a deadly habit.

In the South the excessive use of cocaine by negroes has grown to alarming proportions as a consequence of the enactment of prohibition laws. Deprived of whisky, the low type of negro turns to drugs which are far worse. This is not an argument for whisky; it merely means that the South must set to work as vigorously to eradicate the new evil as it did the old.

In Colorado Springs, as in every other city, police authorities declare that cocaine and morphine are responsible for the criminality of most of the offenders in the jails. The "hophead" is an ever-present problem; weak-willed, irresponsible, a criminal only because his insatiable craving for the drug compels him to commit crimes to get it and makes him an easy victim to the temptation to commit other crimes while under its influence.

This is a problem which soon or late must arouse the entire nation, and those most familiar with its present proportions declare that unless certain of the drugs are absolutely driven out of the market by stringent prohibitory laws the consequences will be worse even than those of the liquor traffic. We talk of the horrors of the opium trade in China, but the fact is that the drug and its derivatives have gained a foothold in this country no less threatening to the welfare of the nation. There is nothing to be said in defense of cocaine; it is not an indispensable remedy under any conditions, and Congress could absolutely forbid its importation and sale without imposing hardship on anybody. The practical difficulty, however, is that the country has not been aroused to the seriousness of the danger, and it is almost ignored everywhere.

WEEDS.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
When The Gazette announced that the weeds on the street sides and vacant lots were to be cut at once, we took heart of joy and hopefully awaited the result. It has not been recently in the north and, where, supposedly the good work begins, but on the west side the sunflower's handsome face greets us continually with no apparent diminution of numbers. While we may agree with Oscar Wilde that it fittingly adorns a park, it is not a pleasing sight in connection with coarse weeds and tall grasses which gives to our otherwise beautiful city a most untidy appearance.

One would naturally suppose that the proper time to dispose of weeds is before they blossom fruit, and thus prevent their kind. If it were, why mothers, instead of other fathers, the city housekeeping would not be deferred until our visitors were with us to justify complaint of our lack of sanitation in that respect. As it is, we, the citizens, must in shame bear the merited criticism of our slovenly ways, wondering why it is thus.

FROM OTHER PAGES
A RESURRECTED LAW
From the Boston Evening Transcript.
The member of Congress who has just refused to resign for several days that he was absent from his duties finds himself somewhat famous, but it is doubtful whether his scrupulous observance of the law will make him any more popular with his fellow members. He came to Congress with the intention of obeying it. His predecessor used to be away two months at a time, not on the coast mountains, but practicing law. When the present member was elected, four years ago, he had a suit on hand which made him four days late in answering President Taft's call for an extra session. For those four days he refused pay, so his recent reputation of the act was not a sudden spasm of conscience or a bid for notoriety. The law which has been repealed dates back to 1856. It is not directly binding upon members, but instructs the sergeant-at-arms to deduct from the monthly payment of each member of delegate the amount of his salary for each day he was away, unless he was absent because of his own illness or that of some member of his family. The present sergeant-at-arms has been asked what would happen should he attempt to enforce the law. "I would last about three days," was his reply. Let it be not a bad law, especially for men like Hearst and Hobson, though perhaps their absence was a greater benefit to the country than their presence would have been.

FOR PRESIDENT, PANCHO VILLA
From the New York Sun.

The Mexican situation will not be regarded as simplified by the change of heart which Panchito Villa is said to have undergone as respects the proposed succession. So long as he professed in through popular magazines and newspaper interviews a modest appreciation of his own qualities and expressed a preference for a farm and his ease when the great struggle was over to the dirty and risky heights of rulership; all was well. He could be trusted to fight if he didn't expect any great reward outside those of his conscience and rude, generous nature.

But now the evolved brigand chief appears to have come to a new knowledge of himself. If he can lead armies, he begins to think, he can lead ministries and command nations as respects the most essential. When all the possible shooting is on one side, what difficulty can there be in running things? Besides, Carranza, who at one time was Panchito's ideal of a president, isn't the man he thought at all. He found this out in time. The evidences of the discovery have not been wanting for a couple of weeks past.

So now Carranza is only to be allowed to act as a stop-gap president, a warning sign for Villa himself, the dominating genius of the revolution, the real force of "Constitutionalism." When the final choice is made by the people of Mexico, Villa's will be the only name heard. To the victor belongs the spoils, and the victor of a dozen bloody fields will see to it that no more thinker comes between him and the people—not the people between him and what belongs to him.

The policy of watchful waiting develops a new surprise—it is a surprise—at any rate the prospect of a new triumph for civilization and humanity.

BRYAN THE MORALIST.

From the Chicago Tribune.
Mr. Bryan says he regards the opportunity of addressing his fellow Americans in the "Chaunticleer" frame of mind, as one of the greatest and most patriotic American could ask. We believe not only that Mr. Bryan is sincere, but that the service he does with his vitriolic platitudes is enormous. He comes to men and women who do not want sophistication or brilliancy or profundity, but who are eager for the energized morality of this evangelist.

Bryan is a great preacher of great usefulness. The Chaunticleer platform is his pulpit. He is all the ethical maxims of the world's experience in morality and justice. He can kill his auditor's law of life dated from the first dawn, but seemingly just come to life and meaning. Generally when he speaks the word is dead. He is silent to grace and grandeur in form, but with the personal Bryan behind the word, it is majestic.

To concede this evangelist's usefulness to Mr. Bryan is to pay a small debt of justice. We regard Mr. Bryan as almost a total loss as secretary of state, but as a great evangelist both in and out of politics.

THE HIGH COST OF MATRIMONY.

From the Washington Herald Independent.
Nearly twice as many divorce decrees were granted in New York during the first half of 1914 as during the same period the year before, and the county clerk says in explanation, "I know of no other reason than the old adage that when poverty strikes in through the door, love flies out of the window. I think the hard times are responsible. This is the hardest blow yet at the administration, especially as there is no evidence to show that the cost of divorce has been reduced."

Are You Growing?

BY RUTH CAMERON

"Self-satisfied are most of us,
And with how little satisfied!"

The above couplet is the conclusion of a clever little satire aimed at the foolish, self-satisfaction which underlies most of our protestations of humility and unworthiness.

Since I read it, it has popped into my mind every time I have been lured to be pleased with myself over some childish little accomplishment, or when I have been told that I was doing well in the hope that it may do the same humble-praising service for others.

"Self-satisfied are most of us,
And with how little satisfied!"
Just it half appalling and half amusing when you stop to think how easily we are pleased with ourselves. The tiny effort toward self-improvement, the slight increase of business, the trifling act of self-sacrifice, the small social triumph, which we have achieved fill us with a warm glow of triumph, which we use ourselves and not another who achieved them. If we were only half as self-satisfied as we are, we should be much more content with our neighbors' achievements, we should indeed be pleased to live with them.

I deeply believe that as many men remain mediocre because their progress is arrested by the satisfying inactivity of their self-satisfaction. As are ruined by the more commonly recognized variety of inactivity.

But should one never feel self-satisfied even if one is completely satisfied with one's own work?

No, never. Approve of yourself if you deserve it when judged by the same standards by which you judge your neighbor, but don't be self-satisfied, because then you will stop trying to improve, and that is one of the greatest tragedies that can come to any man or woman.

If a child were growing physically before he is five years old, we feel that a very sad thing has happened. When a man or woman stops growing physically and mentally this side of the grave, it is a sadder thing has happened.

Do you ever stop and ask yourself if you are still growing?

Are you broadening out mentally in any direction? Do you do whatever work is your portion in life—be it teaching, bookkeeping, selling, managing, men or housekeeping—a little better today than you did five years ago?

Are you growing spiritually? Are you building up your character? Have you any better control of your temper than you had five years ago? Have you succeeded in doing something toward crushing out that tendency to jealousy or that habit of procrastination?

While there's life, there should be growth. In nature when a thing stops growing it begins to decay. So self-satisfaction, with its lack of growth, is apt to lead to mental and spiritual stagnation. Are you still growing? If not, look out.

WILLS

A will is the only means a man has of settling things after he is dead.

When a man has no property, he departs from earth entirely when he dies and becomes as unimportant as an ex-president in Washington. But when he has accumulated a large mass of wealth, he can enjoy himself for many years, after death, leaving them to means of a triple expansion air-light, nondescript will.

Waiting for a will to be opened amid appropriate ceremonies, including a large crocodile tear.

Many a father who has tried in vain to run his sons during his life has succeeded perfectly after he has died by leaving the job to a will. You can get around a fond father in a dozen ways, but you can't put your arm around the shoulders of a will and argue it into being a good fellow.

Many a man has boasted his wife for 20 years and then after she has died and she is beginning to draw a few timid breaths without anyone's permission, she discovers in her husband's will that he is still hanging around the premises, dictating her a figure conduct and booting possible successors off the front steps by means of a clause which provides that when she remarries, all her interest in his property shall cease and determine.

Old Stephen Girard of Philadelphia had a great hatred of ministers and died because some day he must die and stop beating them. But he didn't die—that is not entirely. He left this earth 70 years ago, but his will is still running Girard College and slamming the front door in the face of every minister who applies for entrance.

Mankind is divided into two classes, those who are earning their living and those who are waiting for a will to be opened amid appropriate ceremonies, including a large crocodile tear. The latter is the easier job, but the former is more certain of results, and it is much more popular in this country than it is in England, where the upper classes and the undertakers spend their lives waiting, hand in hand, for results.

Many a man has waited 20 years to get a chance to open a will and then found the will to be as empty as a hickory nut with a worm hole in it.

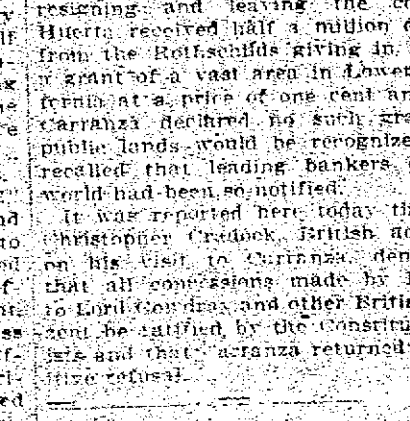

Still, opening wills is more fun than leaving them. Nobody likes to leave a will. One would imagine it was a burden from "her way" the major crimes to it.

CARRANZA TO STAND BY HUERTA FINANCIAL ORDER

TAMPA, Mexico, July 26.—Via Laredo, Tex., July 25.—General Carranza today indicated that he will stand by the decree he issued early in the revolution regarding financial transactions made by Huerta. His attention today was called to a report that just before resigning and leaving the country Huerta received half a million dollars from the Rothschilds living in return of a grant of a vast area in Lower California at a price of one cent an acre. Carranza declared he such grant of public lands would be recognized and recalled that leading bankers of the world had been so notified.

It was reported here today that Sir Christopher Cresswell, British admiral on his visit to Carranza, demanded that all concessions made by Huerta to Lord Curzon and other British dignitaries be nullified by the constitutionalists and that Carranza returned a positive refusal.

GEN. PORFIRIO DIAZ

Former president of Mexico, who now is in Paris, said when the news came that Huerta had resigned, that he had advised the dictator to take this course immediately. Privately General Diaz has frequently criticized the United States policy, but he has for some time held the opinion that Huerta's disappearance would facilitate a solution of the Mexican problem.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY JULY 28, 1884

At a meeting of the school trustees of district No. 11, E. L. Byrington was elected superintendent of our public schools. He had been principal of the normal school at Winnipeg, Manitoba, for the past two years.

Callender's minstrels performed at the Opera house before a large audience. A special train was run to accommodate the residents of Manitou who wished to attend.

Word was received that the Rev. Dr. Willis Lord of this city had been married in Guilford, Conn. He was expected back soon.

Professor Haskell of Denver sent a large case of books as a present to the Coburn library.

Samuel Parsons, superintendent of public parks in New York city, arrived to give a course of lectures on parks and landscape gardening at the summer school.

COMMUNITY NURSES

In 1911 the State Federation of Women's Clubs undertook a survey of tuberculosis in Illinois. The survey in each county was under the supervision of the women's clubs of that county. The principal object of the survey was to interest the women of the county in the consumptives of that county. It was felt that when they became interested, they would become interested in those things which spread consumption.

The interest stimulated was so apparent that the State Tuberculosis Society put an extension secretary in the field to crystallize this interest into active effort. Miss Harriet Fulmer, for several years in charge of the Visiting Nurses association in Chicago, was selected to do this work. She is now in the field, and her work is being done in a most efficient manner.

The central idea of Miss Fulmer's plan is to secure community visiting nurses. Sometimes a nurse is employed to look after an entire county. Sometimes a string of towns located along an interurban line will employ a nurse. If a nurse looks after a county, the county supervisors are asked to pay a part of her salary. If she looks after a group of towns and villages, that portion of her salary to be paid by the governmental bodies is pro-rated among the towns and the councils are asked to appropriate the necessary funds.

First and foremost, rural nursing service is now in operation in Richland, McLean, Livingston and Morgan counties. In Livingston county Miss Fulmer enrolled 2,000 school children in the Livingston Open Air Crusaders. The rules for membership were:

- (a) Sleep with your window open.
- (b) Have fresh air where you work or play.
- (c) Breathe through your nose with your mouth closed.
- (d) Get the rest of your family to do the same.

Along the Fox river a chain of towns agreed to maintain the Fox river valley visiting nurse. In this area are Elgin, St. Charles, Geneva and Batavia. The Fox river valley is rapidly becoming a great industrial community, and the people are anxious to prevent the development of the great consumption, which is inevitable whenever an industrial community grows without plan, purpose or control.

Arbolene is one of several nostrums put out by the Prescription Products company of Dayton, O., and advertised by means of fake "Answers to Correspondents" by Dr. Lewis Baker. Let them alone.

SORE THROAT PATIENT SAFE.
G. V. P. writes: "I should appreciate it if you would give me some information with regard to the epidemic of streptococcus sore throat in 1911 and 1912. I have heard that out of the several hundred cases in this town not one got perfectly well. Is this true and is a streptococcus infection incurable? I also understand that there are several kinds of this infection, the worst of all getting in the blood and withstanding."

CHICAGO, July 27.—Notice was given today by William Rapp, Jr., of his intention to take an appeal to the appellate court in the recent decree of divorce granted Madame Ernestine Schuman-Heink. Rapp will contend in his appeal that he should have been permitted to prove Madame Schuman-Heink's long residence and that the trial judge erred when he refused Rapp the permission to cross-examine certain witnesses.

ANNEXATIONISTS IN COLO. CITY BACKING RECALL PETITION?

100 Names Secured Yesterday; Administration Forces Defy Enemies

Believing the recall of the city officials will hasten the annexation of Colorado City to Colorado Springs, the annexation forces of Colorado City are lining up with the faction carrying on the recall proceedings, according to those directing the latter movement. The annexationists have remained quiet since securing the appointment of an annexation committee several months ago and, as a body, have taken no part in the recall movement. While it is hardly likely they will make an open fight for recall, it is generally understood they are in sympathy with the movement.

The recall movement is strictly an economical one, its backers point out. In support of their argument they refer to the charges brought against the officials—all of them of little importance—and hint that they could have preferred charges that would have started the entire region. They wanted to bring the matter to a crisis without an ugly fight of a scandal, they assert, and for this reason are carrying on the movement as quietly and with as little publicity as possible.

The annexationists believe the affairs of the city must be placed on a more economical basis before annexation can be had, it is said, and for this reason are lining up with the recall crowd. They accept the statements of the latter that the movement is purely one of economy.

100 Names Already.

The recall faction is absolutely confident that the required number of signatures to insure a recall election can be obtained within 10 days at the most. The petitions, about eight in number, were placed in circulation last Saturday morning. Last night it was reported that more than 100 of the 420 required had been secured. It was also pointed out that no workers are out. The most of the petitions are in the hands of merchants who offer them only to customers in their stores, it is stated.

If the recall crowd is confident that the movement will be an unqualified success, there are others in the city who hold just the opposite opinion. "Nothing to it," they declare disdainfully. "Just a bunch of knackers trying to start trouble. This town was never better off than it is now. Property is rapidly becoming more valuable and business conditions are bettering."

If there is a deep interest in the movement, however, it is not manifested. The people apparently are not stirred up over it and one would never know anything about it if he did not question. Directors of the movement, one of whom is Frank L. Wolff, already are talking of the special recall election and the city election to select successors to the present officials. They are anxious that the special election be held during September, that the issues of the state campaign will not affect the purely local ones in Colorado City. The election to fill the offices—they take it for granted that the recall election will prove successful—they hope to hold simultaneously with the general election in November.

Mrs. May Ammerman, city clerk, and other officials are doing everything in their power to make the attempt to recall them as difficult as possible, according to the leaders. Mrs. Ammerman furnished recall petitions with space on each for only 12 names. It is said, the leaders pointing out that notary fees will amount to an amazing figure.

A Delicious Lunch

"What a perfectly delicious lunch you make," is the universal verdict of our home-made, mouth-watering lunches.

Tourists and picnic parties especially find here the most delightful food tastefully prepared and substantially packed in our picnic boxes.

How many different kinds of sandwiches do you suppose we make? No less than 15. We prepare the meat ourselves, use our own special sandwich bread, and use the most generous portions of everything. There's nothing stingy about our sandwiches.

Of course there are the pickles, olives, fruit, candy, little cakes, etc., which all go to make up a perfect lunch.

Telephone your order and we'll have it ready.

James Boylston pleaded guilty in the district court before Judge Little yesterday morning to a charge of forgery. Judge Little sentenced him to an indefinite term in the state reformatory at Buena Vista.

After a preliminary hearing yesterday, Justice J. P. Madden held that there was no evidence to convict Harvey Taylor, who had been arrested on a charge of burglary, and ordered that the charge be dismissed and that Taylor be released from custody. Taylor lives near Peyton. C. E. Geers was the complaining witness against him. Geers claimed that Taylor had stolen a rifle, $100 in old coins, and a watch and chain belonging to him.

Deaths and Funerals

The funeral of Harry B. Snyder, who committed suicide at Butte, July 19, was held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Boyle undertaking rooms. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Daniel A. Rardin, of 820 East St. Vrain street died yesterday at his home after a long illness. No definite arrangements have been made for the funeral but the service will probably be held from the Fairies undertaking rooms.

Peter Charlton, of 123 South Fifteenth street died Sunday at a local hospital after a short illness. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be at Evergreen cemetery. Mr. Charlton came to Colorado Springs in 1911 with his wife and three children.

George C. Weinrich, 43 years old, died yesterday morning at the home of P. Hearman, 634 East Boulder street. Weinrich had been in the Pikes Peak region a month. He was for several years a prominent business man of Memphis, Tenn., and his body was taken to Memphis last night by his wife, who was in this city with him.

A Household Word in Every Home

That's what Pan-Dandy has become.

For thousands of housewives all over the city have come to realize that it means "the bread that can't be bettered."

Pan-Dandy 5c Pan-Dandy Bread 10c

Pan-Dandy is made right with selected flour and the purest of milk; it's baked right in sanitary ovens; and so naturally, it tastes right.

You'll say so when you try it.
Make the trial today all grocers have it.
But be sure it bears the Pan-Dandy label.
